DEDICATION

MISS ELIZABETH PHILLIPS
Mr. RALPH HODGES

To one who is our devoted teacher and friend; to one who is ever mindful that we exist as individuals with numerous problems; to one who has enriched and influenced the lives of many students, we dedicate this, the 1959 ASH-HI-LIFE, to MISS ELIZABETH PHILLIPS.

To one who is a man of high character; to one who is devoted to his profession; to one who maintains an active interest in all of our activities and whose judgment we have come to respect; with appreciation and honor, we dedicate this, the 1959 ASH-HI-LIFE, to MR. RALPH HODGES.

In Memoriam

MARTHA GRACE OGLESBY

December 12, 1941
February 19, 1955

"Death Be Not Proud"

And what is to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?

For life and death are one, even as the river and the seas are one.

The youth of all the yesteryears gave us a world of today complex with problems of terror, dreams of the future, little hope within the despair. The answer lies with you, and you, and you; for somewhere among the youth of today are minds capable of discovering ways to world peace, ways to deeper and more fulfilling lives, ways to new appreciation of beauty in art or literature or music, just as there have been minds capable of splitting the atom. Our immediate purpose in high school is to discover our talents and capabilities. ASH-HI-LIFE is a pictorial history of our progress along the way.

There was a student went forth every day, and the first object he look'd upon, that object he became . . .

And that object became part of him for the day or a certain part of him for the day, or for many years or stretching cycles of years.

FACULTY

If we make decisions, govern ourselves, understand civilization, we must learn. Thus, we entrust to our teachers the minds and hearts of ourselves, and through them, our nation survives. In today's world, the fruits of happiness are not within the reach of the ignorant. We therefore believe that no profession is more essential to our lives, no more deserving of our respect than that of our teachers.

Exchange students to some, foreign neighbors to us.

You're a monitor, but I have my pass.

Student activity room—where are the boys?

Student Council officers and sponsor work together as the "big five."

Look who's hungry again.

The tradition of Student Council is deeply rooted at Asheboro High School. Through its officers, elected by the students, Asheboro High affairs are largely controlled by them.

The council is headed by a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These officers, together with homeroom representatives, and their advisor, Mr. Ralph M. Hodges, make up the Student Council.

At the core of the student government is the honor system. The fact that our honor system works can be seen by the most casual visitor. It is our aim eventually to pay tribute to honor in the classroom. It is the objective that ultimately we can hope to attain—even during examinations.

This organization takes full responsibility for enforcing the code of honor, respect, and democracy. In order to do this we endeavor to promote a sense of personal growth in students and to adopt only the regulations that merit the approval of both faculty and students.

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

Chief among the values which the social studies program contributes to the individual and to the school program is the development of the ability to meet situations that involve social relationships. The development of being historically minded; an awareness of the interdependence between man and his environment; that democracy is the fundamental pattern for group living in America are the phases of practical emphasis.

Ultimately the particular objective of the program is to get the student to see the world about him as a place in which he lives and works, and to get him to assume responsibility for making it a better place for himself and others. Through a concentrated study of community, national, and world problems, the students cultivate habits of thinking and acting which may in time bring about reform and a lasting world peace.

HISTORY

ENGLISH

To prepare students for a creative and responsible readiness for the democratic way of life is the primary purpose of the language arts program. Recognizing the art of communication as of paramount importance the opportunity for learning is presented in a flexible and integrated program.

Specific achievement of this purpose is expedited through a variety of challenging materials and expressions, which correspond as nearly as possible to real-life situatiions. It is the direct responsibility of the department to give continued instructions in the mechanical and thinking side of reading. Through this media we recognize the possibilities of effective expressions. Training for free and natural expressions coincides to achieve the indispensable task—effective expressions—in the social development of individuals.

Through the study of the Romance languages, French and Spanish, students increase their knowledge of the speech, literature, arts, and customs of different nations. This opportunity promotes a keen interest in people of other lands. Here we seek to create a spirit of understanding and cooperation in dealing with peoples of other nations and with problems common to all.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The study of Latin in Asheboro High School provides one of the more interesting and colorful courses. This classic language is especially valuable because of its relation to English and its practical usage in many professions.

Along with a study of the language, a history of the Roman people and their culture is presented. Through ancient writers, such as Homer and Virgil, students become acquainted with the great literature of the period.

BIOLOGY

Accepting the challenge of present-day trends in education, the science department, with its courses in general science, biology, chemistry, and physics, creates enthusiasm and interest in contemporary achievements and stimulates the thinking of students to pursue a scientific profession.

CHEMISTRY

MATHEMATICS

The mathematics department offers courses which are designed to fit the needs of each individual student. All of the courses help students to think quantitatively and to reason logically. There are advanced courses for those who are preparing for careers in mathematics and related fields. Ultimately, the chief objective is to cause the student to discover the aesthetic as well as the practical values and benefits of mathematics.

The art department provides an atmosphere which is conducive to growth in ability of each student to express himself creatively. The program is one that is flexible to the extent that it takes care of everyone, and in doing so students are free to experiment with their ideas and skills.

The industrial arts program concentrates its efforts on providing opportunities for the development of simple tool skills and opportunities for exploration of student interests. Basically, it is the foundation and background upon which later more specific trade and industrial education can be built.

ART

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

MUSIC

The music department at Asheboro High affords an opportunity for students who are interested in singing and band to participate. Members of the Band and choral groups look forward to increasing opportunities in the future as their place in school life develops and as they continue to represent the school to the outside public.

The homemaking department provides a program of organized experiences designed to help in-school and out-of-school groups in the solution of their family living problems in the home, in the school, and in the community, and assists them in assuming responsibilities of homemaking.

HOMEMAKING

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

COMMERCIAL

The physical education program strives to develop physical fitness and mental alertness through varied aspects of health, first aid, and rhythmic activities.

The business education department endeavors to develop skills, attitudes, and understandings that are essential for the successful direction of day-to-day business operations. The objectives are directed toward non-vocational education, including consumer education and education for social and economic efficiency; and vocational competency, including skill training which enables our students to meet the demands of the business office.

I don't care what you said, Mr. Van Hoy, it was the Economic and Social Council.

My mother told me there would be days like this.

Are they giving away trade secrets?

Look, you blockhead!

Even they eat.

The answers these students give!

Is there anyone listening?

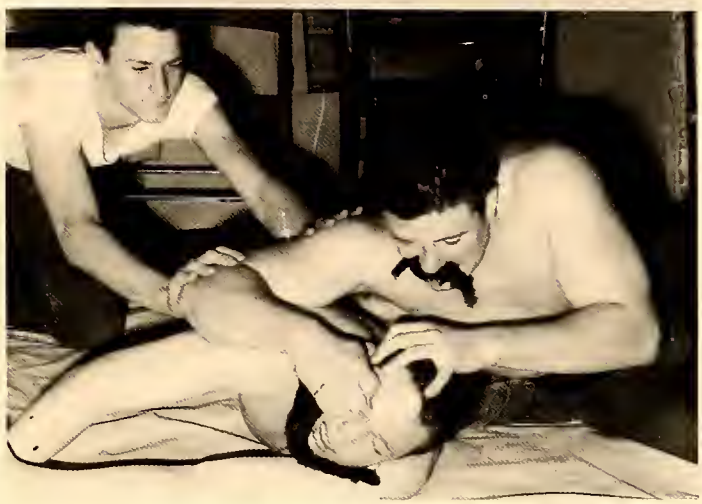
JUNIOR PLAY

A lightly humorous play, "Tattletale," under the direction of Mrs. Mary B. McKinley, was presented by the Class of 1959.

1958 DEDICATION

A tribute of honor and respect to Miss Helen Bostick and Mr. William F. Van Hoy, Jr.



SENIOR SHOWCASE

SCIENCE FAIR

It's fair weather for another winner.

What time is it?

There've been some changes made.

It didn't really erupt.

The Science Fair is a display of the work of junior and senior high school students who, in some manner, indicate a definite interest in science. Opportunity is provided for the students to enrich classroom experiences with special projects. Parents, teachers, and all students appreciate and enjoy this curricular highlight.

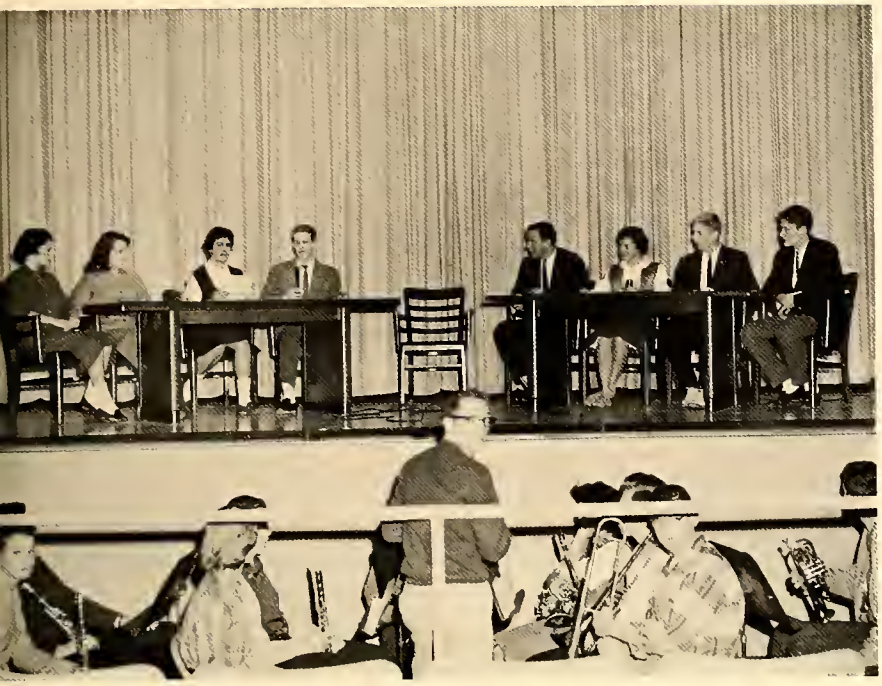
They hope to hit the moon.

Your take over from here, Tom.

Tomorrow's teachers pledge devotion toward tomorrow's youth.

CHAPEL PROGRAMS

We exchange ideas with foreign students.



A proud moment for new Key Clubber, Billy Lane.

SOCIAL STANDARDS DAY

The Social Standards Day Committee plans another successful day.

Social Standards Day is another project of the Student Council. On this day all high school students are given the opportunity to hear at least two persons present indeas and facts concerning their professions. They are able to talk informally with representatives, thus gaining an idea of the vocation they wish to pursue.

Mr. Wright, our photographer, a Social Standards Day Representative.

Let's list the professions in which we are most interested.

Now suppose we invite this college.

COLLEGE DAY

One of the most beneficial projects sponsored by the Student Council is College Day. The purpose of this day is to give the juniors and seniors a picture of the colleges in which they are interested. Representatives from colleges and universities throughout North Carolina and neighboring states are present to inform the students as to the background of their schools, requirements for entrance, the curriculum, the cost, student aid, and various enriching activities on the campus of schools which they represent.

What college do you represent?

Steve thinks plans are complete.

The Ring Dance is an annual social event sponsored by the senior class for the purpose of presenting the ring to the class president. This ring thus becomes a symbol of our high school achievement.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to compliment the staff on the first edition of the Ash-Hi-Chat. I found it very interesting.

Omitting the gossip column was a great improvement.

Keep up the good work, as all the students enjoy this publication very much.

Sincerely yours,
Dwight Hooker

The main purpose of the Ash-Hi-Chat is to publish our school news and to educate the community as to the working operations of Asheboro High.

In capitalizing the achievements of the student body and encouraging worth-while activities this newspaper serves as a means of unifying the students and faculty.

The Ash-Hi-Chat also provides an outlet for suggestions that might lead to the betterment of the school and at the same time develop inter-school spirit and relationships.

BLUE COMETS FOOTBALL TEAM

In the 1958 season the Blue Comet football team experienced the most successful season in the history of the school. The Comets, living up to their name, ripped through twelve straight opponents and ended the season with a spotless 12-0 record. It marked the first time in history that an Asheboro High School team has ever compiled an undefeated season on the gridiron. Winning the North Piedmont Conference title in November, the Blue and White forces rose to greater fame by capturing two post-season play-off games, over Albemarle's Bulldogs 28-6 and over the previously undefeated Hickory Tornadoes to win the Piedmont Conferences Divisions and the WNCHSAA Championships. Asheboro, rolling up a total for the season of 404 points to the oppositions' 33, was ranked as the number one high school aggregation in the state.

Stopped for no gain.

The "fighting Comets" had a season total of 4,317 yards gained to 1,426 for their foes for another new record. In addition to this, they had 156 first downs, 3,334 yards rushing, 983 yards passing, 53 passes completed out of 112 attempts, and they punted for an average of 39 yards per kick. In comparison, opposing teams had only 84 first downs, 903 yards rushing, 523 yards passing, 49 completed passes out of 135 attempts, and a punting average of 28 yards per kick. Coach Lee Stone and his players have accredited the winning season to an unbeatable combination of spirit, hustle, determination, and good sportsmanship. During the season the team produced many stars, but the combination of a well-rounded eleven man team proved to be the strongest link in their chain of victories. The forward wall of the Comet defense was led by All-American David Dalton. Ronald Henson and Billy Baird performed well at the end positions. Tony Brantley, Bunny Bowman, and Merle Lemons controlled the middle of the line. They were followed by David Dalton and "Quacky" Johnson as linebackers. Bob Fritz, Mark Leggett, and Roland Ashburn composed the defensive backfield. The Blue Comet offensive line consisted of Ashburn and Rowe at ends; Dalton and Lemons at the tackle positions; Johnson and Bowman at the guard slot; and Brantley, the center. The scoring machine was led by All-Southern Mark Leggett at right halfback, Bobby Fritz at left halfback, Ronald Henson and Hugh Roberts at fullback and the "Little General," Ed Wheless, at Quarterback.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM

Under capable guidance, the junior varsity and future varsity is introduced to the basic fundamentals of football. Because of this learning, this group has established an honorable record for themselves and the school. Playing county varsity and AAA junior varsity teams, the Asheboro "Little Blues" gained valuable experience necessary in preparation for varsity participation.

BASEBALL TEAM

Asheboro High's baseball team has achieved a memorable record. In 1958, the team won more games than ever before. For the first time in the school's history, they brought home the North Piedmont Conference title. This title qualified the Blue Comets to meet the defending champions, Shelby, for the WNC-HSAA Championship. The Blue Comets lost this game 2-1 in extra innings, but, at the same time, established themselves as a powerhouse among AA teams in the state.

Thoughts wander in the dugout.

Our coaches ARE well fed.

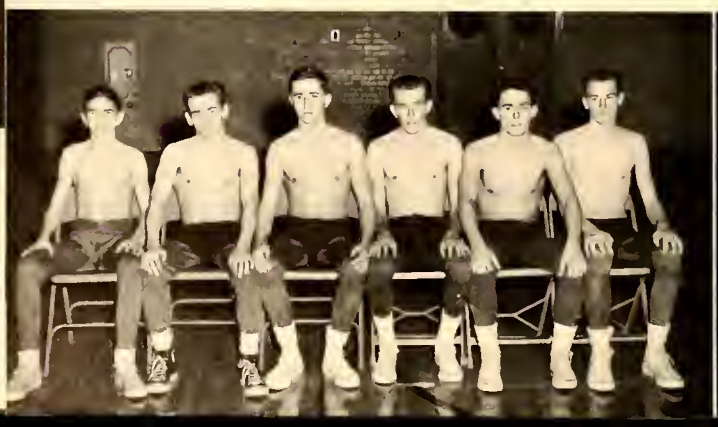
Thomas, Bullock, Carter, Walker, Ragsdale, Hayworth, S. Hamilton, Fritz, Kenan, Manager.

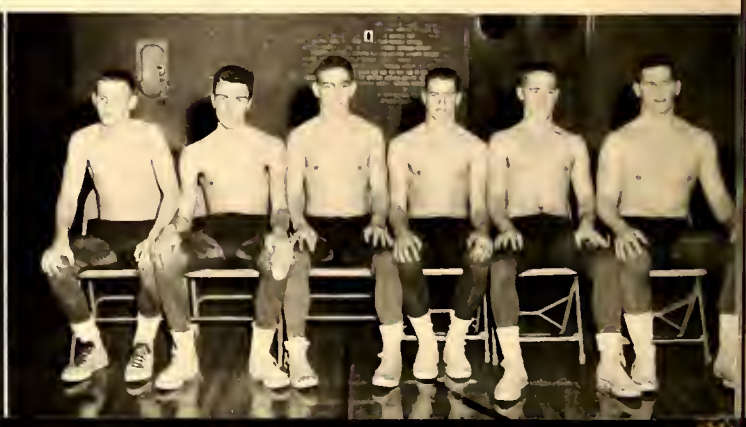
WRESTLING TEAM

The Blue Comet matmen are, at the present, experiencing their best season to date and the season is still young. Coach Jim Hurst has built this team over a three-year period from an inexperienced team into one of championship caliber. At the closing of last year's season, the Comets placed third in the state meet. They captured the North Piedmont Conference title with a 9-4 record for dual matches in league competition. They won top honors in the WNCHSAA tournament held at Davidson College in February. Here the Comets won ten out of twelve events. While placing third in the state tournament, the Comets had one champion and three second place positions.

Dalton, Alec J. Hurst, Coach; Leggett, Johnson.

Underwood, Britt, Martin, Brown, Parks, Hamilton, Johnson, Roddy, Davidson, Barnes, Leggett, Dalton.



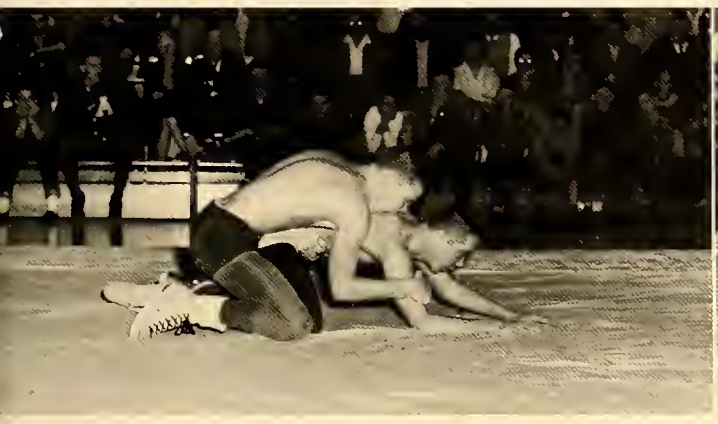


Dalton works a power switch.

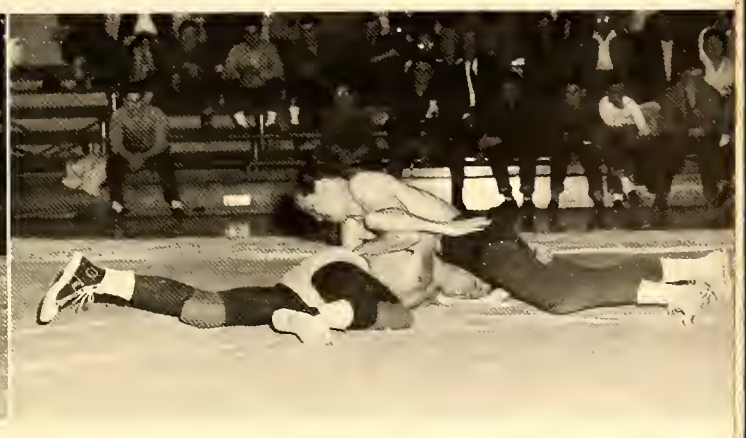
Davidson tries for an escape.

Another five points for the Comets.

Nice counter work, Barnes!



Quack tries a breakdown.



Brown moves in for the pin.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

In 1958 Asheboro High School Basketball Team added another outstanding year to their record. The Blue Comets won the North Piedmont Conference title for the fourth consecutive time. Coached by Warren Hawkins, they won their fourth championship in the North and South Piedmont Conference division. The team was also successful in bringing home the championship WNCHSAA trophy for the third time in the past five years.

The 1959 basketball season, which is now under way, is making another remarkable record. Burlington, a AAA club, has already suffered two defeats at the hands of the Comet quintet. This is indicative of a successful season for the Big Blue and their new coach, Ralph Hodges.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Junior varsity basketball, although sometimes unnoticed, is the springboard for many varsity athletes. This phase of basketball improves natural ability and confidence in young players. The junior varsity squad is composed of freshmen and sophomores. During the previous season the team made its first undefeated record under the direction of Ralph Hodges. This brilliant record includes several victories over AAA junior varsity squads and county varsity units. Last year's starting five is now seeing a great deal of varsity action. Expectation for the present year is for another outstanding record under our new coach, Don Thomas.

First row: Fetner, Burkhead, Roberts, Babbs, Coltrane, Redding. Second row: Laughlin, Moody, Dawson, Bowman, Hicks, Ashburn. Third row: Spencer, Leggett, Holt.

TRACK TEAM

The 1958 Asheboro High School Track Team had a successful season which was climaxed in the Carolinas' AAU Meet. In this event, which featured statewide competition, the Blue Comets finished second to Greensboro. Asheboro placed well in this and other meets because of their well-blanced team. A strong combination of field events men and sprinters paced the Comet squad. In the AAU meet field events men Bob Fritz, Luther Fritz, and Glen Dawson, combined with the 880 yard relay team of Sherrill Babb, Roland Ashburn, Ed Wheless, and Jackie Spencer to produce the valuable points.

Basketball offers an opportunity to develop such essential personality traits as good sportsmanship and congeniality. INTRAMURALS

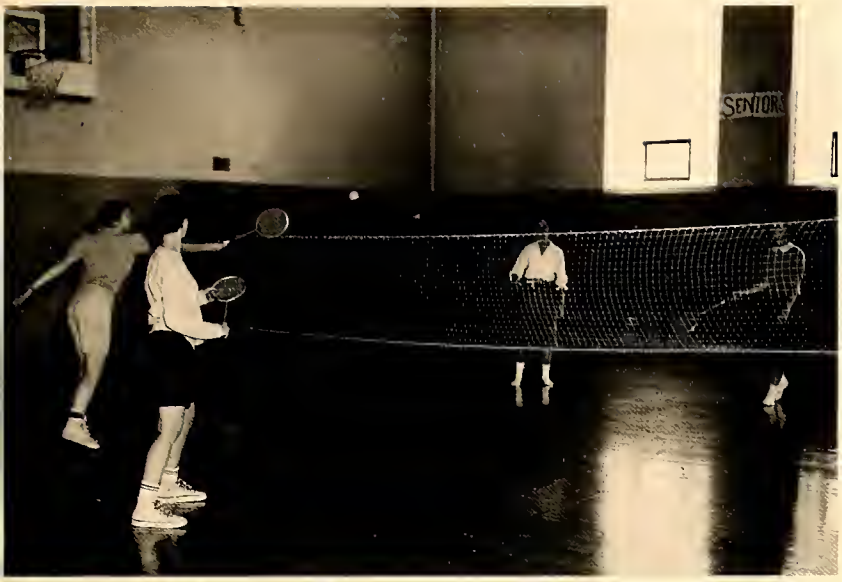
Speed ball—and they're ready for a field goal.

Each year the girls of every class look forward to this spring sport.



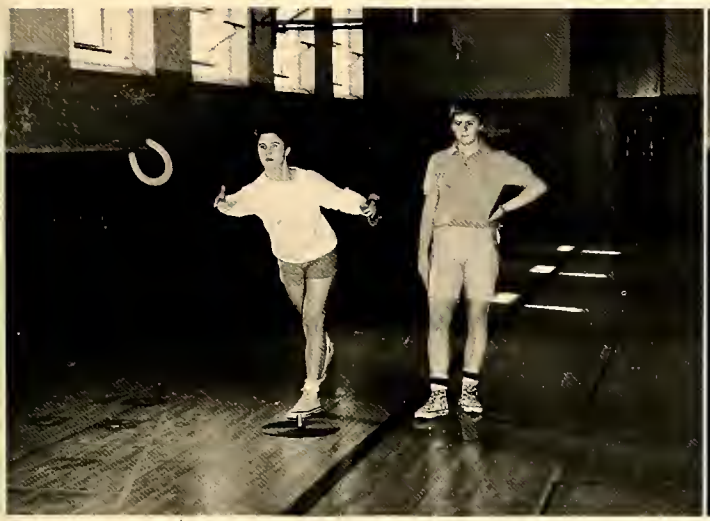
Champions Gail and Janet Harris go after another victory.

Miss Glisson, ever-helpful supervisor of intramurals.

I'm going to make this one.

The intramural program is an extracurricular activity which is looked forward to by the majority of the girls of Asheboro High School. These varied activities provide much enjoyment for everyone who participates and at the same time helps to develop many worthwhile qualities, such as teamwork, self-confidence, leadership, and unselfishness.

Each spring the Girls' Monogram Club, under the expert guidance of Miss Angelyn Glisson, plans and supervises intramurals. The program gives varsity players practice in leadership and guidance. It is they who compete with those led by other varsity players.



She needs a ringer to take this one.

She's aiming that puck for a score.

These became parts of that student who went forth every day, and who now goes, and will always go forth every day.

Walt Whitman

QUALITY YEARBOOKS

To Mr. Marston Wright we wish to express our gratitude for his diligent work, patience, and understanding. It is because of the cooperation of Mr. Wright, we are happy to present the pictures in the 1959 ASH-HI-LIFE.

Let us also express our appreciation to Mr. Fred Burgess for his liberal contribution of pictures in the athletic section of our yearbook.

Washington

April, 1959

The Franklin Park—our home away from home.

Mr. Phoenix, don't leave us, please.

Brenda, stop brooding and let's go!

Whee—a twelve-minute break—even in Washington!

Mr. Van Hoy—did you get left?

I just MUST see him tonight!

Oh, no—More steps?

When do we eat?

Where's Bussey?

Watch that last step—it's tricky!

I wonder what we'll see next.

This we won't soon forget.
